SCOUTING.

Jamboree Jottings.
Mr. McDonald is busy with sanitation. At present he is dealing with clean mud!
Mr. Kirkham is "all wet" but his enthusiastic crowd of Scouts was able to do justice to the National Anthem in the downpour on Sunday. Particularly that part which read "Long to reign (rain) over us."
Have you seen Webster's cartoon of Uncle Dan Beard in the Daily Mail of August 1st?
Robert S. Hale of Boston, member of the National Camping committee, is doing yeoman's work. He is constantly on the job.
Edward A. O'Hara of Syracuse, N.Y., a member of Troop 2, was selected to represent America at an International tea on Sunday afternoon.
Col. H. D. McBride in charge of formations, has the Scouts and Scouters with him in a very perplexing job. Don't worry, Colonel. There is nothing but commendation for your courteous handling of a wet and muddy but happy contingent.
Good weather to write. If you have no ink use water. A Scout is cheerful.
Scout leaders can help the Editorial staff by seeing to it that some scout reports all news by 4 o'clock daily.
A photograph of the staff publishing this special Jamboree of "Scouting" will be taken on Tuesday.

Prince Recognized Captain Mallet.
Captain A. J. Mallet, an English officer with decorations who is working in our commissary department, was recognized by H.R.H. The Prince of Wales during his visit in the American camp and he had a brief conversation with the Prince.

Scouts Hear Wet Lecture by the Whale.
Swimming parties started off with a big splash on Saturday when two large contingents started from The Olympia gate in Charabancs to the Corporation baths in Wallasey. There were about 60 each trip and all were back in time for the regular dinner, clean and peppy after an hour in the salt but heated waters of the Guinea Gap natorium. Supt. John Finlay and his staff were on the job to welcome the American boys and were complimentary in speaking of their swimming ability and discipline.
Part of the time was taken in a real soapy scrub-up and then water buddies were assigned as if they were on a camping trip and were swimming in a lake or stream. At intervals, the command "Join Your Buddies" was given and the importance of being paired off with a swimmer of one's own ability was stressed by Commodore Longfellow.
A part of the program for each swimming period was a wet lecture and demonstration of water safety methods used in Scouting by the Commodore who talked from the deep end of the pool and demonstrated water balancing, floating, walking in the water, surface diving, the pendulum, float bobbing, sculling and various other stunts that will tend to make scouts more at home in the water.
The swimming schedule for Monday will include those who are to be in the water play and Troop 17 at 9 o'clock; Troops 10 and 18 at 10 a.m.; and Troops 3 and 8 at 11 o'clock.
For Tuesday, the schedule is 9 a.m. Troops 4, 10 and 18; for 10 o'clock, Troops 9, 19 and 14; and for 11 o'clock, parts of Troops 2, 24, 6 and 11. The swimming schedule will be omitted on Wednesday because of the pageant rehearsal.

"Boys' Life."
Did you get your copy of the August issue of "Boys' Life" which was delivered to your camp on Sunday morning?
If you did you will want to read the many articles on the Jamboree. They will be especially appreciated by those of us who are here.
If you failed to get your copy or want extra numbers they may be had at the Exhibit tent at the special price of 10 cents each. As this issue will be quickly exhausted, make sure to pick up your extra copies on Monday.

Jamboree News in U.S.
New York, N.Y.—Newspapers throughout the United States are devoting much space to news of the happenings at Arrow Park. Editorials are in the leading New York dailies. They stress the importance of the Jamboree as a factor in world peace. The visits of Dawes and the Prince of Wales to the American camp have been given the greatest prominence.
Mendell Retains Championship.
Tommy Mendell easily retained the lightweight championship of the World when he defeated Tony Conzoneri in a ten round bout. Twenty-five thousand persons saw the fight.
Constructing Giant Seaplane.
Philadelphia, Pa.—The final touches are being given the American seaplane which will compete in the Schneider trophy race in England, September 7th. The plane is expected to reach a speed of almost 400 miles an hour.

AMERICA'S GREETING.
I.
From a country rich in Scouting,
Far across the sea,
We are here to bring our greetings,
And good-will to thee.
Chorus:
Scouts, we greet you—glad to meet you,
Brothers all are we,
Ties of friendship bind us close-in Scouting unity.
II.
Boys are here from many nations
And our hopes are high
That through Scouting's common kinship
Hatred's sting shall die.
III.
From this place where we have gathered
May there come great good
May God's guidance ever keep us
One on brotherhood.

Sea Scout Pageant.
Wilbur McDonald, Boyce Brandon, George Granner and Lester Reith, all members of the Sea Scout division of the Jamboree Sea Scout troop, were honorary guards to Sir Robert Baden-Powell, when he visited the Sea Scout Pageant at Merseyside.
The pageant was of the yarn that ran away with itself, written by Scoutmaster F. Wilkinson, and presented by the British Sea Scouts. The marine display was preceded by a display put on by the Hungarian Sea Scouts.
The story, "The Incredible Adventures of Captain Curdle," opens with the loss of a group of sea scouts out on a trip on a desert island. They are saved in the end after two of their party had been hanged.
With a high wind and very unfavourable weather conditions to be combated the scouts put on a very splendid display. There were a great many Sea Scouts and Sea Scout officials in attendance including, Chief Scout Executive James E. West; Thomas J. Keane; Commodore Howard F. Gillette of Chicago; Commodore, W. E. Longfellow and Uncle Dan Beard.

Make a report about your findings about the history and the present of the troop Add it to patrol or troop or an honor paradise and attach it to the troop li y.. BP was very interested in getting the boys to use the nightly conditions Therefore the night post if BP itself could try to enter the camp outside the boundaries.. Patroljene has the items in the correct order List sequence: A scout leader or youth leader who is a good storyteller tells the group a dramatic story.

Bill Harvey landed the party at Seymour brewing on Brownsea and returned to Poole while Baden-Powell and the boys half walk along the island coast to the campsite.. The Dorset Wildlife Trust has rented a conservation area on the north side of the island and the Scout and Guide Movements were allowed to return and the castle was renovated and rented the John Lewis Partnership for use as a hotel.. A small part of the southeastern island along with Brownsea Castle is rented to John Lewis Partnership for use as a resort hotel for employees and is not open to the public.. So it seems that Everett testament to the participants would be most accurate but of all sources found he is the only one who is Simon Rodney from Bulls Patrol while other sources specifically refer to the four Rodney Brothers.. Since 1981 Jamboree is in Fort A P Hill Virginia Future jamborees will be held at the Summit: Bechtel Family National Scout Reserve in West Virginia.
